

Two separate threads: a shared temperature response and a small cGAS-dependent arm

Each dot is one gene, in log2 fold change. x = its heat response pooled over genotypes, y = how much stronger it is in WT than in cGAS-KO. y is capped 1.5× narrower than x.

